

Correspondences

From the White Eagle teachings:

‘There is a law which all ancient brethren understood—as above so below. Nothing manifests in the etheric world, in the soul worlds, on the mental planes, which cannot manifest on the material planes.’

‘You are the medium for the whole universe, and contain within yourself every vibration in universal life. Even the notes of music all have their correspondence in the human body.’

‘Most of you will already know that nothing can happen by chance. You are all here because you yourselves at some time have set up a correspondence with us in the world of spirit. You may not be conscious of this, but as you pursue your investigations you will learn more about these forces which play on you from a higher life or a higher ether.’

‘Every soul living is a child of God and sets up within him or herself a radiation which will attract to the soul either positive or negative forces. This is one reason why, in the work of the Brotherhood, we are taught to control our thoughts as far as we can. We know that men and women find this most difficult. Nevertheless, we advise you to try to control thought and to direct that thought into good and wise channels.

‘As we were saying, you live in a vortex of forces both positive and negative; and according to your own reactions, your own thoughts, your own response, you will be affected by the many different forces and magnetic currents of thought power which are ever flowing around you.’

‘Your five senses enable you to contact life on the physical plane; they do not function only through the physical body however, but also through the higher vehicles or spiritual bodies of men and women. When we relate each sense to the corresponding higher elements of life, and see the importance of so harmonising the physical life that it balances and controls the five senses, then we are able to penetrate through them into the heart of the Cosmos, and to unravel the mysteries of the universe.

‘To make the subject more clear and to simplify, we will consider the eight principles of life: Earth, Air, Fire, Water, Ether, Intelligence which is the controlling power, Soul or individualisation and intuition or Spirit. Of the elements five have correspondence or relationship to a physical sense. Again through these physical senses, you open the way to the inner mysteries of your being.'
